Prompt and accurate information is critical in crisis situations, like the current COVID-19 pandemic. Centific has launched a new solution to help businesses respond rapidly to the disruptions caused by the outbreak: Emergency Response Translation.

This new offering helps businesses quickly translate COVID-19 related information into multiple languages for global audiences.

The Business Need

Large businesses with global audiences face a special need. They must share critical COVID-19 related information such as new operational practices for employees and updated services for customers within a short period of time to ensure the information reaches the audience quickly. And on top of that, they need to translate this emergency information in multiple languages.

How Centific is Helping

To help businesses during this time of need, Centific has launched Emergency Response

Translation. Through Emergency Response Translation, we rely on our language translation services to provide fast, accurate translation of short-form content related to COVID-19. We provide:

- Turnaround in less than 24 hours.
- Expertise from a global team of linguists, coordinators, and project managers.
- Highly automated workflows.

Our Commitment to You and the Community

At Centific, we are committed to helping both businesses and the community around us endure through this global pandemic. Healthcare workers are making ultimate sacrifices for us. We want to do our part to help them. Profits will be used to pay salaries to people on projects impacted by Covid-19 and for donations to hospitals treating Covid-19 patients.
